About WHO@-KTD

WHO® (Working to Halt Online Abuse) is the oldest online safety organization dedicated to helping adult victims of cyberstalking and online harassment. WHO®-KTD (Kids/Teen Division) was founded in September of 2005 to help kids and teens being bullied, harassed and stalked online. Their president, Jayne A. Hitchcock travels the country training law enforcement and other about cybercrime, how to track down cybercriminals and how to work with victims.

Her book, Cyberbullying & The Wild, Wild Web: What You Need to Know is available on Amazon.com

For more information, you can reach WHO® at haltabusektd.org, via e-mail at whoa@haltabuse.org, or P.O. Box 782, York, Maine 03909

• Don’t trust everyone you meet online - even if they claim to be a “mutual friend”
• Only approve friends you really know - once they’re approved, they can see EVERYTHING you’re posting online, including photos and videos.
• Be careful what you post online - it can and will be used against you
• Never, ever give a friend your password! You may be friends today, but tomorrow is a different story.
• Employers and colleges/universities monitor social networking sites and do “Google” searches - you may lose a job or admission to the school of your dreams because of what you do online
• Don’t take revenge on someone online - you could go to jail for it
• Never give out your real name, age, address, where you work or phone number online without permission
• Don’t take sexy photos of yourself to send to your boyfriend/girlfriend via cell phone or computer. It WILL end up on the Internet for the world to see & it’s against the law.
• Lurk on groups, message boards, web sites, blogs and chat rooms before posting messages
• When you do participate online, be careful -- only type what you would say to someone’s face
• Block or ignore unwanted users in chat or IM. Take advantage of the "Block all users except those on my buddy list" or add unwanted screen names to an Ignore list in chat. You’re not being rude - your comfort level is more important than their feelings.
• Your first instinct may be to defend yourself if you are bothered online - DON’T - this is how most online harassment situations begin

What to do if you’re being bullied or harassed online:

1. KEEP EVERYTHING! Don’t delete e-mails, IMs, etc. Place them in a folder on your hard drive, DVD, USB storage etc and print out a hard copy. You can also take a screen shot by hitting the Ctrl and Print Screen (or Prt Sc) keys on your keyboard, then open a graphics or word processing program and go to Edit, Paste (or Ctrl + V keys), then save the document.
2. Let your parents, teacher or another adult you trust know about what is happening online
3. Contact the harasser ONE time with something as simple as “Please leave me alone.” You do not need to explain why. CC (copy) the person’s ISP and keep a copy of your request for them to stop.
4. Do NOT respond after that, but do keep anything they may send
5. Send complaints to the person’s ISP with the full headers (if via email). If you don’t know how to do this, go to haltabusektd.org/help/headers/index.shtml.
6. If someone has created a web site to harass you, complain to the server where the site is hosted (we can help you with this).
7. If you are being harassed on social media/apps, file a complaint on their site/app
8. If the harassment continues, go to WHOA-KTD at haltabusektd.org for more advice and resources.
